

Information Blocking Assessment

Information Blocking Trends and Statistics

Non-compliance could lead to civil monetary penalties of up to $1 million per violation for engaging in information blocking.

SOURCE: Information Blocking Claims: By the Numbers | HealthIT.gov

83% of Information Blocking claims submitted were by patients on their healthcare provider.

Don't be the next organization that has a complaint filed on your healthcare system.

SOURCE: Information Blocking Claims: By the Numbers | HealthIT.gov

The rules are changing

On October 6, 2022, the scope of EHI under federal rules increased substantially. The expanded definition includes any electronic Protected Health Information (ePHI) under HIPAA that could be contained in patient medical or billing records or used to make a decision about a patient.

What is Information Blocking?

The act of unreasonably interfering with or preventing the interoperability of Electronic Health Information (EHI) through actions, inaction, cumbersome processes, or excessive fees.

What is an Information Blocking Assessment?

The assessment is a one-time project with an approximate completion time of 4-6 weeks depending on the number of people and interactions.

How can Edafio help?

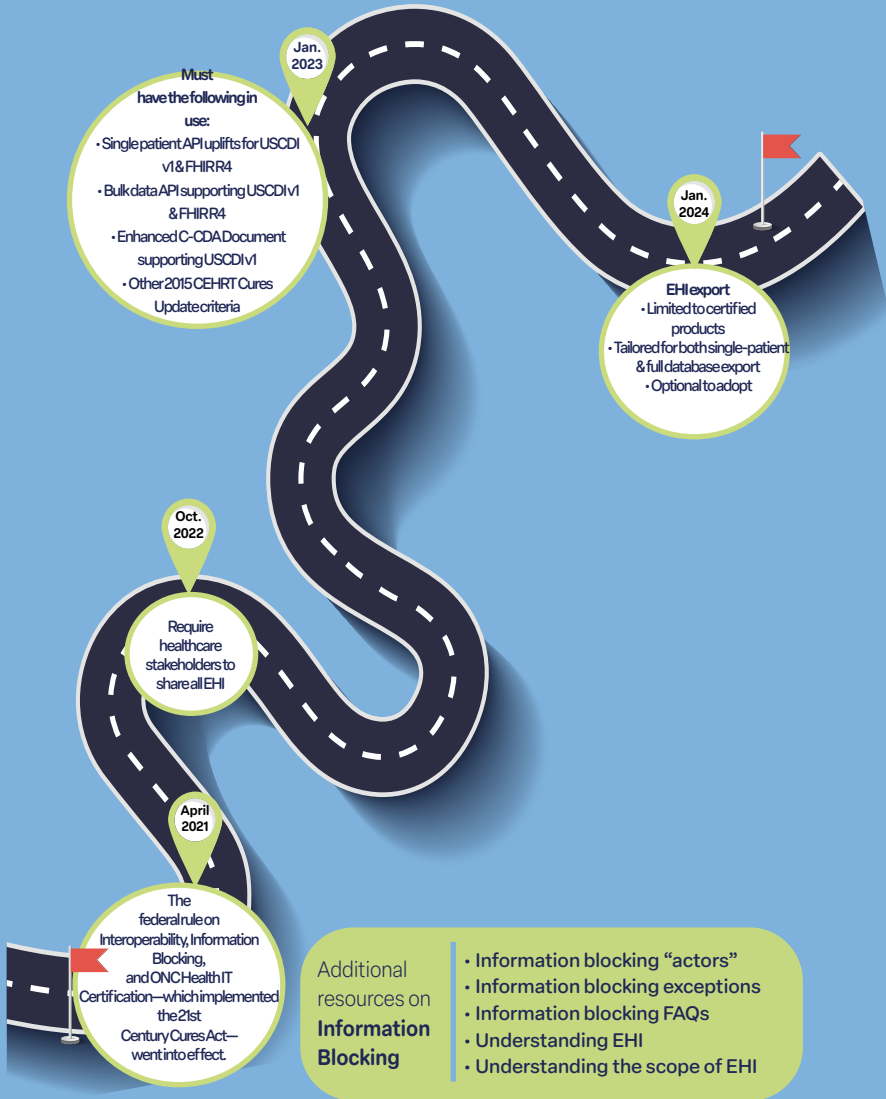

To help identify gaps, minimize risks, and motivate change, our Healthcare Consulting Team created the Information Blocking Assessment to assist in:

- Developing a plan to meet Information Blocking requirements
- Delivering a report showing current compliance with the Information Blocking Regulation and Cures Act and rate each finding as high, medium, or low.
- Assessing patient portal and other settings to evaluate compliance.

$2750 One-Time Fee

Information Blocking Compliance Roadmap

We are here to help guide your organization's compliance journey around every twist and turn.

Additional resources on Information Blocking

- Information blocking “actors”
- Information blocking exceptions
- Information blocking FAQs
- Understanding EHI
- Understanding the scope of EHI

Schedule a consult today

EDAFIO

edafio.com

